

November 21, 2006

To Syracuse University Supply Chain Management Faculty & Graduates:

Through our recruiting efforts, we have identified Syracuse University, specifically Supply Chain Management graduates as targets for the Management Trainee position in the Global Supply Chain Management Division at Cintas. The position is an exciting and challenging opportunity and requires a person who has the drive for achievement that is demonstrated in your college credentials.

We would like to invite Syracuse University Supply Chain graduates to complete an on-line application by going to www.cintas.com/careers. Once you enter the site, use the Job Number Search function and enter [10031375] to apply. Please note that when answering questions related to degree completion, respond in the affirmative if you're graduation date is May 2007 or earlier. We will review all applications and invite individuals who have met the minimum requirements to interview for this exciting Global Supply Chain position. In order to interview, you must complete an on-line application.

We look forward to discussing your qualifications and the opportunities available to you at Cintas.

Sincerely,

*La Costa T. Mackey
Global Supply Chain Management Recruiter
Cintas Corporation*

Global Supply Chain Management Trainee

The Global Supply Chain Management division of Cintas is looking for a Management Trainee to participate in an extensive, well-structured, 13-month training program, designed to provide a strong knowledge of all aspects of our business, as well as supply chain overall. The Management Trainee program combines a series of rotations thru all aspects of the Global Supply Chain division including Distribution / production Planning, Manufacturing & Textile R&D, Global Sourcing and classroom seminars; with the purpose of preparing the individual for an overall view of the Supply Chain area. Upon completion of the program, the Management Trainee will be placed in a position in one of several areas, such as Production Management, Office Management, Production Planning or Global Sourcing. The purpose is to prepare the Management Trainee for a Distribution Center / Manufacturing Plant Management or equivalent Corporate function within 5-7 years of experience with Cintas.

November 21, 2006

To Syracuse University Supply Chain Management Faculty & Graduates:

Through our recruiting efforts, we have identified Syracuse University, specifically Supply Chain Management students as targets for the Scholar Intern position in the Global Supply Chain Management Division at Cintas. The position is an exciting and challenging opportunity and requires a person who has the drive for achievement that is demonstrated in your college credentials.

We would like to invite Syracuse University Supply Chain students to complete an on-line application by going to www.cintas.com/careers. Once you enter the site, use the Job Number Search function and enter [10031374] to apply. We will review all applications and invite individuals who have met the minimum requirements to interview for this exciting Global Supply Chain position. In order to interview, you must complete an on-line application.

We look forward to discussing your qualifications and the opportunities available to you at Cintas.

Sincerely,

La Costa T. Mackey
Global Supply Chain Management Recruiter
Cintas Corporation

Global Supply Chain Summer Intern

Cintas' Supply Chain Management Division is currently looking for a Scholar to participate in the SCM Internship Program, either full-time or part-time during the summers of your college career. The 12-week program is designed to provide the experience and knowledge that goes beyond the classroom, while providing an opportunity to gain a strong knowledge of our business, as well as the uniform and facility services industries overall. Scholars will spend the duration of their internship in one of the following key areas: Distribution, Logistics & Manufacturing, Production Planning or Sourcing.