

I am working with a Multi-Billion Dollar Consumer Products Company who is looking for a Supply Chain Director to add to their team in NJ. This Company has been around over 50 years and has operations that span over 100 Countries.

We are looking for a Supply Chain Executive that has performed the following responsibilities:

- Retrieve, analyze and provide documentation for key account(s) in order to provide recommendations regarding service level and vendor/retailer performance.
- Provide logistical and inventory data to retailer.
- Act as a liaison between the field force, Admin and accounts.
- Determine and implement priority of logistical initiatives with accounts.
- Develops customized strategies providing high customer service levels and reduced cost.
- Responsible for the efficient flow of product from supplier to customers.
- Participate and/or lead Logistics meetings with assigned accounts in person or via conference call
- Facilitate monthly cross-functional team meetings with Customer Service
- Publish reports to insure initiatives and executions are progressing as planned
- Evaluate and implement new initiatives requested by key account(s).
- Involved in special projects in order to provide cost analysis and recommendations for process improvements (i.e., returns, replenishment, launches).
- Performs other miscellaneous tasks and duties as assigned by manager

Mandatory Qualifications:

- Must have at least 7 years experience with a Fortune 500 Manufacturer/Retailer in at least three of the following supply chain disciplines: Purchasing, Replenishment, Forecasting Distribution/Transportation, Sales
- Must be experienced in order cycle management, fill rates, service level measurements and packaging requirements.
- 5 Years Project Mgmt. exp.
- Must have a working knowledge of retail or co- managed replenishment and forecasting systems.
- Ability to produce Excel and Access reports.
- SAP experience.
- An understanding of relational data base concepts;
- Must be able to effectively communicate across multiple departments.
- Must possess a four (4) year college degree, preferably in business

Relocation assistance will be provided

If you are interested in being considered for this Great opportunity, please send me a copy of your résumé and ballpark salary requirements.

Chris Capua
Staffing Manager
704-684-3242- Direct
chris@searchforcecorp.com
www.searchforcecorp.com